In January 2024 universal blood lead testing changed to include all children. The lead level officially changed from 5 to 3.5 in Wisconsin to match the CDC guidelines. The health department was proactively following the CDC guideline. In 2024 there were a total of 220 lead tests done and 16 children required further management by nursing staff. The health department can bill Medicaid for the blood lead testing and would like to have blood lead testing available regardless of insurance and charge $5.00 to help cover shipping costs.
